Matthew is a Comprehensive Ophthalmologist who has expertise in the diagnosis and management of Glaucoma. He is passionate about education and awareness of preventable blindness for conditions such as Glaucoma.

Matthew studied medicine at the University of Notre Dame. After completing his internship and residency, Matthew was trained in Ophthalmology at the Sydney Eye Hospital.

A sub-specialty fellowship in Glaucoma at Westmead Hospital allowed him to hone his skill in the diagnosis and management of all types of Glaucoma. During his Westmead Hospital fellowship he was also trained in the surgical management of glaucoma using trabeculectomy, aqueous shunts as well as Minimally Invasive Glaucoma Surgery (MIGS).

Matthew is visiting Consultant Ophthalmologist at Sydney Eye Hospital. Along with his clinical duties, this role allows him to pursue his passion for teaching. He also teaches at the Sydney University Ophthalmic Masters course.
